

Write path: generate the serialized support stream

Read path: reconstruct support before sparse value accesses

The support bitmap is ready before aggregation requests the corresponding packed values.